The City of Edmundston’s history, as we know it today, with its 16,580 (2016) citizens, goes back to 1998, when four neighbouring communities were amalgamated to form a new city. Saint-Jacques, Verret, Edmundston and Saint-Basile now form the Greater Edmundston area.

Edmundston is located in northwestern New Brunswick, in Madawaska County, the city of Edmundston shares borders with Québec and the United States. The City is surrounded by the rolling hills of the Appalachian Mountains.

The lazy Madawaska River flows through the City and falls into the majestic Saint-John River, natural border with the USA. The Transcanada Highway also goes through the City, coming from Québec or the Maritimes. Edmundston is the true gateway to the Atlantic region of Canada.

Covering an area of 280 km², Edmundston spans from Saint-Basile to the east, Saint-Jacques to the west and Verret to the south. Edmundston is a city well worth discovering!
