SESSIONAL CLINICAL LECTURER

The Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy, University of Toronto, invites applications for the position of Sessional Clinical Lecturer to co-coordinate and teach in the elective course, PHM 383H1 Antimicrobial Stewardship, which is offered in the fall term of the third year of the Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) program. The position is anticipated to commence August 1, 2019 and end January 31, 2020.

This course is an interdisciplinary, multifaceted approach to optimize antimicrobial use. It expands and deepens knowledge gained from the Year 2 Infectious Diseases Pharmacotherapy and Microbiology courses, with an emphasis on clinical application within the antimicrobial stewardship context. It will introduce students to the principles of antimicrobial stewardship to facilitate rational selection of antimicrobial regimens; stewardship interventions; quality improvement methods; as well as program development, implementation and evaluation. The course culminates to a team proposal presentation for an antimicrobial stewardship program based on a fictitious institution’s profile. Each team is tasked with convincing a panel of judges, who in practice are antimicrobial stewardship clinicians or program executives, to support their proposed program.

This course is comprised of a total of 26 hours and consists of didactic lectures and large group discussions to enable students to understand the complexities of the effective use of antimicrobials. The successful applicant for this position will co-coordinate the course, in addition to teaching content, developing and marking assessments and meeting with students. The expected enrollment for the course is 240.

Applicants should ideally have a PharmD and/or Masters of Education (or equivalent education and teaching experience), but at a minimum be a Pharmacist licensed in a Canadian jurisdiction, and experience working within the Canadian Health Care system. The successful candidate must demonstrate excellence in teaching and demonstrate a strong knowledge of the relevant topics, and, possess excellent organization and communication skills. Experience in the development and delivery of courses is an asset.

For specific questions about this position, please contact: Dr. Jamie Kellar, Acting Director, PharmD Program, Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy (jamie.kellar@utoronto.ca).

Please submit your application to AcademicHR.phm@utoronto.ca. Applicants should include a cover letter, current curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, and the names and contact information of three referees. The deadline for applications is July 15, 2019; the position will remain open until filled.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.
